Between

AMERICAN UNIVERSITY and PRINCE GEORGE'S COMMUNITY COLLEGE

American University (AU) and Prince George's Community College (PGCC) enter into an agreement for the purpose of providing an honors transfer program for PGCC students. These two institutions represented by the signatories herein intend to cooperate within the constraints of their own resources to offer a program of study for mutually approved, qualified students enrolled in PGCC to be concurrently admitted to AU.

For this purpose, we subscribe to the following conditions and stipulations:

I. PROGRAM

PGCC and AU agree to establish an Honors Transfer Program (Program) for qualified PGCC students to be admitted at AU while pursuing a community college degree. Students identified by PGCC for this Program are required to meet the transfer admission standards of AU. AU will accept specific PGCC courses, which have been satisfactorily completed by identified students, and apply transfer credits to a KSB degree program.

The number of new PGCC students admitted under this Program is limited to one (1) per year, and the maximum number of PGCC students matriculating under this Program is two (2) per year, one at the junior level and one at the senior level.

PGCC and AU agree that, before students matriculate at AU and while students are enrolled at PGCC, AU/KSB will make various opportunities available to these students, including but not limited to academic program advisement, peer mentoring, and other relevant AU/KSB activities and events.

II. FINANCIAL TERMS

PGCC and AU agree that qualified students under this Program merit financial support and that each institution will provide appropriate financial support while the students are in good standing at the respective institutions. While matriculating at PGCC, students will be eligible for financial support that may include Southern Management Corporation Scholarships. While matriculating at AU, the students will be entitled to full tuition, student fees, and room and board covered by the Southern Management Corporation Scholarship Fund and an AU grant.

III. TERM

This Agreement will be in effect for five (5) years beginning on April 1, 2011. Prior to its expiration, AU and PGCC will evaluate the merits of the program and mutually agree on the terms of its renewal.

Dear Dr. Kerwin:

For the past five years, Prince George's Community College and American University have enjoyed a beneficial relationship under a special agreement which specifies that one well-qualified Prince George's Community College graduate be selected each spring to receive a full scholarship including board, room and books to study business at the Kogod School. The scholarship is funded by an endowment to American University from Southern Management Corporation. American University supplements the scholarship with a university grant to cover the cost of room and board.

The current Memorandum of Agreement expires on April 1, 2006. According to the agreement, "prior to its expiration, American and Prince George's will evaluate the merits of the program and mutually agree on the terms of its renewal." Our Honors Program/Honors Academy Coordinator has worked closely with the Kogod School and Admissions personnel. All indicate that they are satisfied with the agreement as written. Therefore, I am enclosing two copies of the agreement updated to indicate the program's continuance for another five years and corrected to include the names of the individuals designated to receive official notices from our respective institutions.

I have signed the updated agreements with the expectation that you will concur, sign and return one of the agreements so that our two institutions can continue to foster the development of outstanding young business students by providing scholarship to deserving, qualified students.

Sincerely,

Ronald A. Williams

Hi Tanisha,

Since I have not heard anything to the contrary from AU, I am assuming that the Memorandum of Agreement between American University and Prince George's Community College for the Southern Management Corporation Scholarship continues to be satisfactory as written. As you know the current memorandum expires April 1, 2006.

Next week I will prepare a new memorandum extending the expiration to April 1, 2011, and changing the official notices section to reflect the current officials at both schools. Whose name and title should be listed to receive official notices for AU? Tom Myers is listed on the current memorandum.

Our president will send the new memorandum to Interim President Kerwin's office for his signature unless it should be routed some other way. Please advise.

Will look forward to hearing from you.
